KEVIN RATHBUN STEAK to Open in 2007

For Immediate Release

ATLANTA, GA., September 24, 2006: Kevin Rathbun, owner of the acclaimed Rathbun's in Atlanta, along with his wife, Melissa, and business partners, Cliff Bramble and Kirk Parks, have just signed a letter of intent to open a third restaurant on the same street. The newest addition will be called KEVIN RATHBUN STEAK and will be Rathbun's "signature steakhouse" located at 154 Krog Street in Inman Park, only a block away from their two other restaurants, Krog Bar and Rathbun's. Kevin Rathbun, with his three restaurants, is personally trying to make Inman Park the newest dining destination of Atlanta.

Kevin Rathbun says, "We have been very fortunate to have the people of Atlanta welcome us with open arms and as long as they accept what we are doing, we will continue to try and keep them satisfied by opening new restaurants".

The Johnson Studio is designing KEVIN RATHBUN STEAK. It will have one-hundred and seventy-four seats, a beltline porch and patio, a wine cellar, hard wood floor & ceilings, a 14 seat full bar along with eight tables, an open kitchen, and a private dining room. KEVIN RATHBUN STEAK will be opening in late spring of 2007.
