

01/15/06 Dining Dish

Dining Dish

Because Dining Dish seems to have a thing for sports analogies this week, it's only fitting that she mention this next chef-related tidbit. Kirk Parks, co-owner and pastry chef of the still red-hot Rathbun's, has been selected as the Atlanta chef to represent the Atlanta Falcons at the annual Taste of the NFL in February. Parks will be making Georgia pecan pie with chocolate brownie crust and Jack Daniel's foam for the Feb. 4 event that pairs a chef from each NFL city with a player or former player. Taste of the NFL takes place the day before the Super Bowl in the Detroit area. Parks partner, Kevin Rathbun, will be cooking in Florida for the Naples Winter Wine Festival the weekend prior.